INVITATION LETTER

Dear Olha Lakhneko,

On behalf of the Institute of Virology, Biomedical Research Center at Bratislava, I am pleased to invite you to apply for a Visiting PhD Student fellowship in the framework of the National Scholarship Programme of Slovak Republic. This invitation is for the period from 1st February to 31st July 2018.

In the case of successful application, you will be engaged in the research project "Proteomic and genomic comparison of allergens in different varieties of bread wheat" at the Proteomic Core Facility of the Biomedical Research Center, under supervision of the Department Head Ing. Ľudovít Škultety, DrSc. This study is expected to deepen previous fruitful effort, which was supported by international corporation.

Since the National Scholarship Programme of Slovak Republic covers only living allowance, Biomedical Research Center will contribute with office and laboratory space, access to computer and internet, advanced analytical instruments and necessary consumables.

I wish you good luck with application, and looking forward to welcome you at our organization.

Sincerely,

prof. RNDr. Silvia Pastoreková, DrSc.
